Priorities for Action

The comprehensive nature of the Vision Plan means that although all things are important, we have to give leadership and administration staff a sense of priorities. There is much that can be done and only so much time and energy available.

In sq'ép, and then by online survey, we asked members to rank in importance, or urgency, or priority - however each person preferred to think of it - the major topics of our vision plan. The results are as follows, with education being the most preferred activity.

There were three discussion topics for which we had yet to prioritize action items – economic development, governance, and health.

Members at sq'ép voted by hand to prioritize. The following graphs depict the importance put on several action items for each topic.
